Seems reasonable to me. Thanks for keeping us in the loop.

Hi Nancy – If you remember, the Kaput-D registration (issued on October 25, 2012) was time-limited for one year with an expiration date of October 25, 2013. Concurrently with the issuance of the registration, a 7(d) memo (<http://www.regulations.gov/#!documentDetail:D=EPA-HQ-OPP-2012-0739-0019>) was written as justification for registering Kaput-D prior to completing formal consultation and that the time limited registration was an additional safeguard given that consultation was not yet completed. The no jeopardy Kaput-D Biological Opinion was issued on December 14, 2012. To date, EPA and Scimetrix are up to date on the obligations required by the Biological Opinion and we're not aware of any new information that would call into question the basis for the Biological Opinion. Scimetrix recently requested that EPA remove the time limitation from the Kaput-D registration. We plan on granting this request by issuing an amended Registration Notice by July 12. Please let me know if you have any questions.

John
